Some county advisory boards to manage wildlife (CAB's) like Clark County, are demanding more power over the Wildlife Commission. County Advisory Boards claim they represent the general public and sportsmen in their respective counties. They do not and I will prove it!

I obtained the sign-in sheets for people attending the Clark County Advisory Board meeting from the beginning of this year. Excluding Wildlife commissioners, former commissioners, NDOW and county employees, here are the results. January: 3 people; March: 5 people; June: 5 people; August: 5 people; September: 3 people. That's an average of 4.2 sportsmen/general public attending the meetings in Clark County.

Washoe County has the same two or three people attending their meetings. There was a high of 10 people attending the meeting to lynch Chairman Lent. Boy, that'll really bring back our deer!

Clark County has a population of 2 million people and Washoe, 400,000. Attendance is pathetic at these two county advisory boards. Who are they going to blame for this, Chairman Lent? Clark County has seven people on their board. That's 3 more than attend their meetings. When you have more people on the board than people attending the meeting, you are representing yourselves.

I am requesting this be put into the minutes of the meeting.
