

Support Material for CGR 385 LCB R011-10 Duck Stamp

BACKGROUND

- In 2009 a sportsman who had purchased a Nevada Wildlife Data System (NWDS) electronic duck stamp approached the Department wanting to obtain a physical duck stamp and was informed that he would have to pay $10 to obtain the physical stamp. After discussion, the Director determined that the agency should be offering these license holders the physical stamp at no cost. To implement the Director's request, NAC needed to be amended.
- This regulation change would allow sportsmen with the electronic duck stamp privilege the opportunity to obtain, for a limited time, the physical stamp after the close of the valid period, at no cost.

Questions & Answers

Question - Why is the opportunity to obtain the physical stamp at no cost occurring after the close of the valid period?

Answer – Prior to the close of the valid period the duck stamp is valid in the field. We do not want to provide a duck stamp to someone at no cost and have them give it to someone for use in the field. After the close of the valid period for the duck stamp, that concern goes away.

Question – Why is the opportunity to obtain the physical duck stamp at no cost limited to 30 days after the close of the valid period.

Answer - There is monetary value to the stamp even after the valid period. This regulation provides a limited opportunity for sportsmen with an electronic duck stamp to obtain the physical stamp at no cost. After the 30 days the Department can charge for the physical stamp.

Language Explanations

Section 1-subsection 1a – Identifies the fee for unexpired duck stamps at $10.

Section 1-subsection 1b - Identifies the fees for the expired stamp during the 30 day period for those with the electronic duck stamp and then for the remaining expired duck stamps.

Language Update to Section 1 subsection 1b1- In the first line - Include clarifying language making it specific to electronic documentation. Add the word “electronic” between the words “provided” and “documentation”. It will then read, “...who is provided electronic documentation by the Department....”

-In the second line - Add the word “and” between “year” and “wishes”.

-In the last line - Remove the language “at the main office of” and replace it with “from”.

Section 1- subsection 2 – This section defines a mint stock stamp.

Section 2 – This section is a revisor's note that allows the department to implement this regulation this year to process any requests for the expired 2009-2010 duck stamp.
