

STATE OF NEVADA
BOARD OF WILDLIFE COMMISSIONERS

Commission Policy Number 51

Number: P-51

Title: Commission Lifetime Commitment to Wildlife Award

Reference: N/A

Effective Date: August 8, 2003

Amended Dates: December 5, 2009,
April 16, 2011

PURPOSE

To establish a policy for the administration of the Commission Lifetime Commitment to Wildlife Award.

POLICY

1. The Wildlife Commission's Lifetime Commitment to Wildlife Award is presented annually to bestow a richly deserved honor on the individual, nonprofit organization, outdoor sports club or business that has shown outstanding achievement and significant results in the conservation, management or enhancement of wildlife in the State of Nevada. Three Board of Wildlife Commissioners, to be named by the chairman, will be represented on the Award Committee.
2. Nominations Schedule: Nominations for the award will be printed each August and mailed out September 1 to all county advisory boards to manage wildlife, the agency's established sportsman's directory list, the wildlife commissioners, and all agency offices. A press release to announce the award will be sent out statewide. Nominations will be accepted until November 15 of the current year at 5 p.m., and judges will receive nominations for review by December 1.
3. Judging Panel: The recipient will be selected by a judging panel made up of three wildlife commissioners. The award will be presented to the selected candidate at the next Wildlife Commission meeting held closest to the recipient's home, or at another Commission meeting agreed to by the recipient.
4. Judging Criteria: Selection of the award winner will be made solely from the official Award nomination form. The following criteria will be considered in evaluating nominees:
 - a. Time and depth of commitment to conservation, management, or enhancement of wildlife in the State of Nevada.
 - b. Influence of the person/project on the public and in presenting positive public relations in regard to wildlife enhancement in Nevada.
 - c. Quantity and quality of measurable results for wildlife enhancement.
 - d. Obstacles, difficulties and personal sacrifice involved in meeting wildlife enhancement goals.
4. Type of Award: The perpetual award is a plaque made out of wood and bronze to which each year's recipient's name will be added. The perpetual award is permanently installed in the lobby of the Reno Office. In addition, each annual recipient will receive a smaller version to commemorate the award.
5. Publicity: An announcement of the availability of nomination forms will be made each September. A statewide press release acknowledging the award recipient and their contributions on behalf of wildlife enhancement will be prepared and sent out after the announcement of the award.

This policy shall remain in effect until amended, repealed, or superseded by the Board of Wildlife Commissioners.
