Access: Access is good with Highway 894 in the middle of the hunt area. A good network of two-track roads can be found with varying degrees of roughness.

Recommended Hunting Areas: This hunt is designed to apply pressure to elk using agricultural fields. Hunters must be within 1-mile of designated properties. Most elk use the fields at the Harbecke, Wahoo, and Kirkeby Ranches. Some elk will move out of the fields to the east and bed in the trees on the upper bench. Other elk will go to the west of the fields and bed in the brush and sand dunes. Knowing where elk move and trying to ambush them is a productive way to hunt this unit.

Biologist Comments: Hunters need to obtain permission before accessing Great Basin Ranch properties. Hunters should be aware of other private parcels in the area. Respect private lands. Excessive scouting and numerous vehicles per hunting party will alter elk behavior to the detriment of hunter success. Try to limit the number of vehicles per party.
